

Ross Heil, DO

Specialty: Gastroenterology

✓ Welcoming new patients

GOSHEN PHYSICIANS GASTROENTEROLOGY

1615 Winsted Drive, Goshen, IN 46526 Directions

574-537-1625

GOSHEN SURGERY CENTER

1605 Winsted Dr, Goshen, IN 46526 Directions

574-364-4730

About Me

Ross A. Heil, DO, is a gastroenterologist who provides medical care at Goshen Physicians | Gastroenterology. He uses the latest therapies and newest technologies that are grounded in the medical literature to treat upper and lower gastrointestinal structural and functional issues. He also focuses on preventive gastrointestinal medicine and performs screening colonoscopies. When not caring for his patients, Dr. Heil enjoys water and snow skiing, camping, canoeing and spending time with his wife and three young boys on Lake Wawasee.

Philosophy of Care

Dr. Heil focuses his care on structural and functional gastrointestinal disorders and is proactive in diagnosing and treating lifelong gastrointestinal conditions. His broad approach incorporates wellness with ongoing care through the patient's primary care physician. His integration ensures that meaningful treatment occurs with every patient he serves.

Research/Clinical Interest

- Irritable bowel disorders
- Functional and structural disorders of both upper and lower gastrointestinal tract
- Hepatitis C
- Crohn's
- Ulcerative colitis

Techniques/Procedures

- Esophageal manometry
- pH testing
- Screening colonoscopy

Education

Education and training:

Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine

Kansas City University of Medicine and Biosciences | Kansas City, MO

Residency:

Internal Medicine

St. John Providence Health Systems: Macomb Hospital | Warren, MI

Fellowship:

Gastroenterology

St. John Providence Health Systems: Providence Hospital | Southfield, MI
