

James Lindemulder, DO

Specialty: Obstetrics/Gynecology

✓ Welcoming new patients

GOSHEN PHYSICIANS OB/GYN

1122 Professional Dr, Goshen, IN 46526 Get Directions

Existing Patients: 574-533-0560

New Patients: 574-537-5000

Biography

Dr. James Lindemulder is a board certified obstetrician and gynecologist at Goshen Physicians OB/GYN. He specializes in women's health care, including minimally invasive surgical techniques, routine checkups and screenings and care throughout pregnancy.

Dr. Lindemulder has more than three decades of experience in treating women's health needs. He focuses on minimally invasive surgical techniques to treat women with gynecologic conditions, such as pelvic pain, endometriosis and ovarian cysts.

Dr. Lindemulder is dedicated to advancing the practice of osteopathic obstetrics and gynecology. He has received numerous honors and appointments by nationally recognized medical organizations and has served in leadership roles for obstetric and gynecologic associations. Dr. Lindemulder also has served as an assistant professor at several regional medical schools.

When Dr. Lindemulder is away from his medical practice, he is an avid exercise enthusiast and is dedicated to family and friends. He also is an instrument-rated pilot and holds a lifelong passion for flying.

Philosophy of Care

For Dr. Lindemulder, good patient care means treating the whole person, not just the disease or condition. He looks beyond the symptoms to understand life events that may be involved with a patient's health concerns.

Research/Clinical Interest

- Pelvic pain
- Endometriosis
- Abnormal bleeding
- Pelvic prolapse

Education

Board Certified – Obstetrics & Gynecology

Education and training:

Doctor of Osteopathy

Chicago College of Osteopathic Medicine | Chicago, IL

Bachelor of Science in Biology

University of Illinois | Chicago, IL

Residency:

Obstetrics & Gynecologic Surgery

Michigan State University | Mount Clemens, MI
