Biography

Kelly Simpson is a women's health nurse practitioner with Goshen Physicians OB/GYN. She provides care for women from adolescence through post-menopausal years. Services Kelly offers range from well-women exams and family planning to pregnancy care and treatment for gynecological concerns.

Much of Kelly's nursing experience has been in labor, delivery and postpartum care at hospitals in a three-state region. She has developed prenatal and postpartum programs to improve experiences of parents during and after pregnancy.

When Kelly is away from nursing, she and her family take every opportunity to explore new and familiar places. She also indulges in a good read, baking and all the pleasures of lake life.

Philosophy of Care

Kelly is passionate about her role as a woman's trusted healthcare partner. She develops strong relationships with patients and helps them navigate every stage of life. Patient education also serves as an important element of Kelly's approach to care.
