About

BIOGRAPHY

Dr. Hannah Brundage is a board certified family medicine physician with fellowship training in obstetrics at Goshen Physicians Family Medicine with OB – Pro Park. She provides care for patients of all ages, from newborns and adolescents to adults and seniors. Her services include preventive care, chronic disease management and women's health.

Dr. Brundage has a special interest in prenatal and postpartum care, as well as mental health. Her training and experience allow her to provide continuity of care for patients who prefer to see one physician throughout pregnancy, delivery and beyond. She is passionate about helping patients achieve their health goals.

Outside of her medical practice, Dr. Brundage enjoys spending time with her family and two cats, golfing and volunteering in her community.

PHILOSOPHY OF CARE

Dr. Brundage believes in building strong relationships with her patients to create personalized care plans that reflect their individual goals and values. She considers the whole person—physical, emotional and social well-being—and treats each patient with the same compassion and dedication she would offer her own family.
